Connecting people over coffee

Search for coffee meetings with nearby professionals or create your own. Accept or pass on the people you want to meet. An app available now on the App Store.

My role for this ongoing project is lead designer. I handle all of the design from sketching and visual designs to handing off designs to developers.

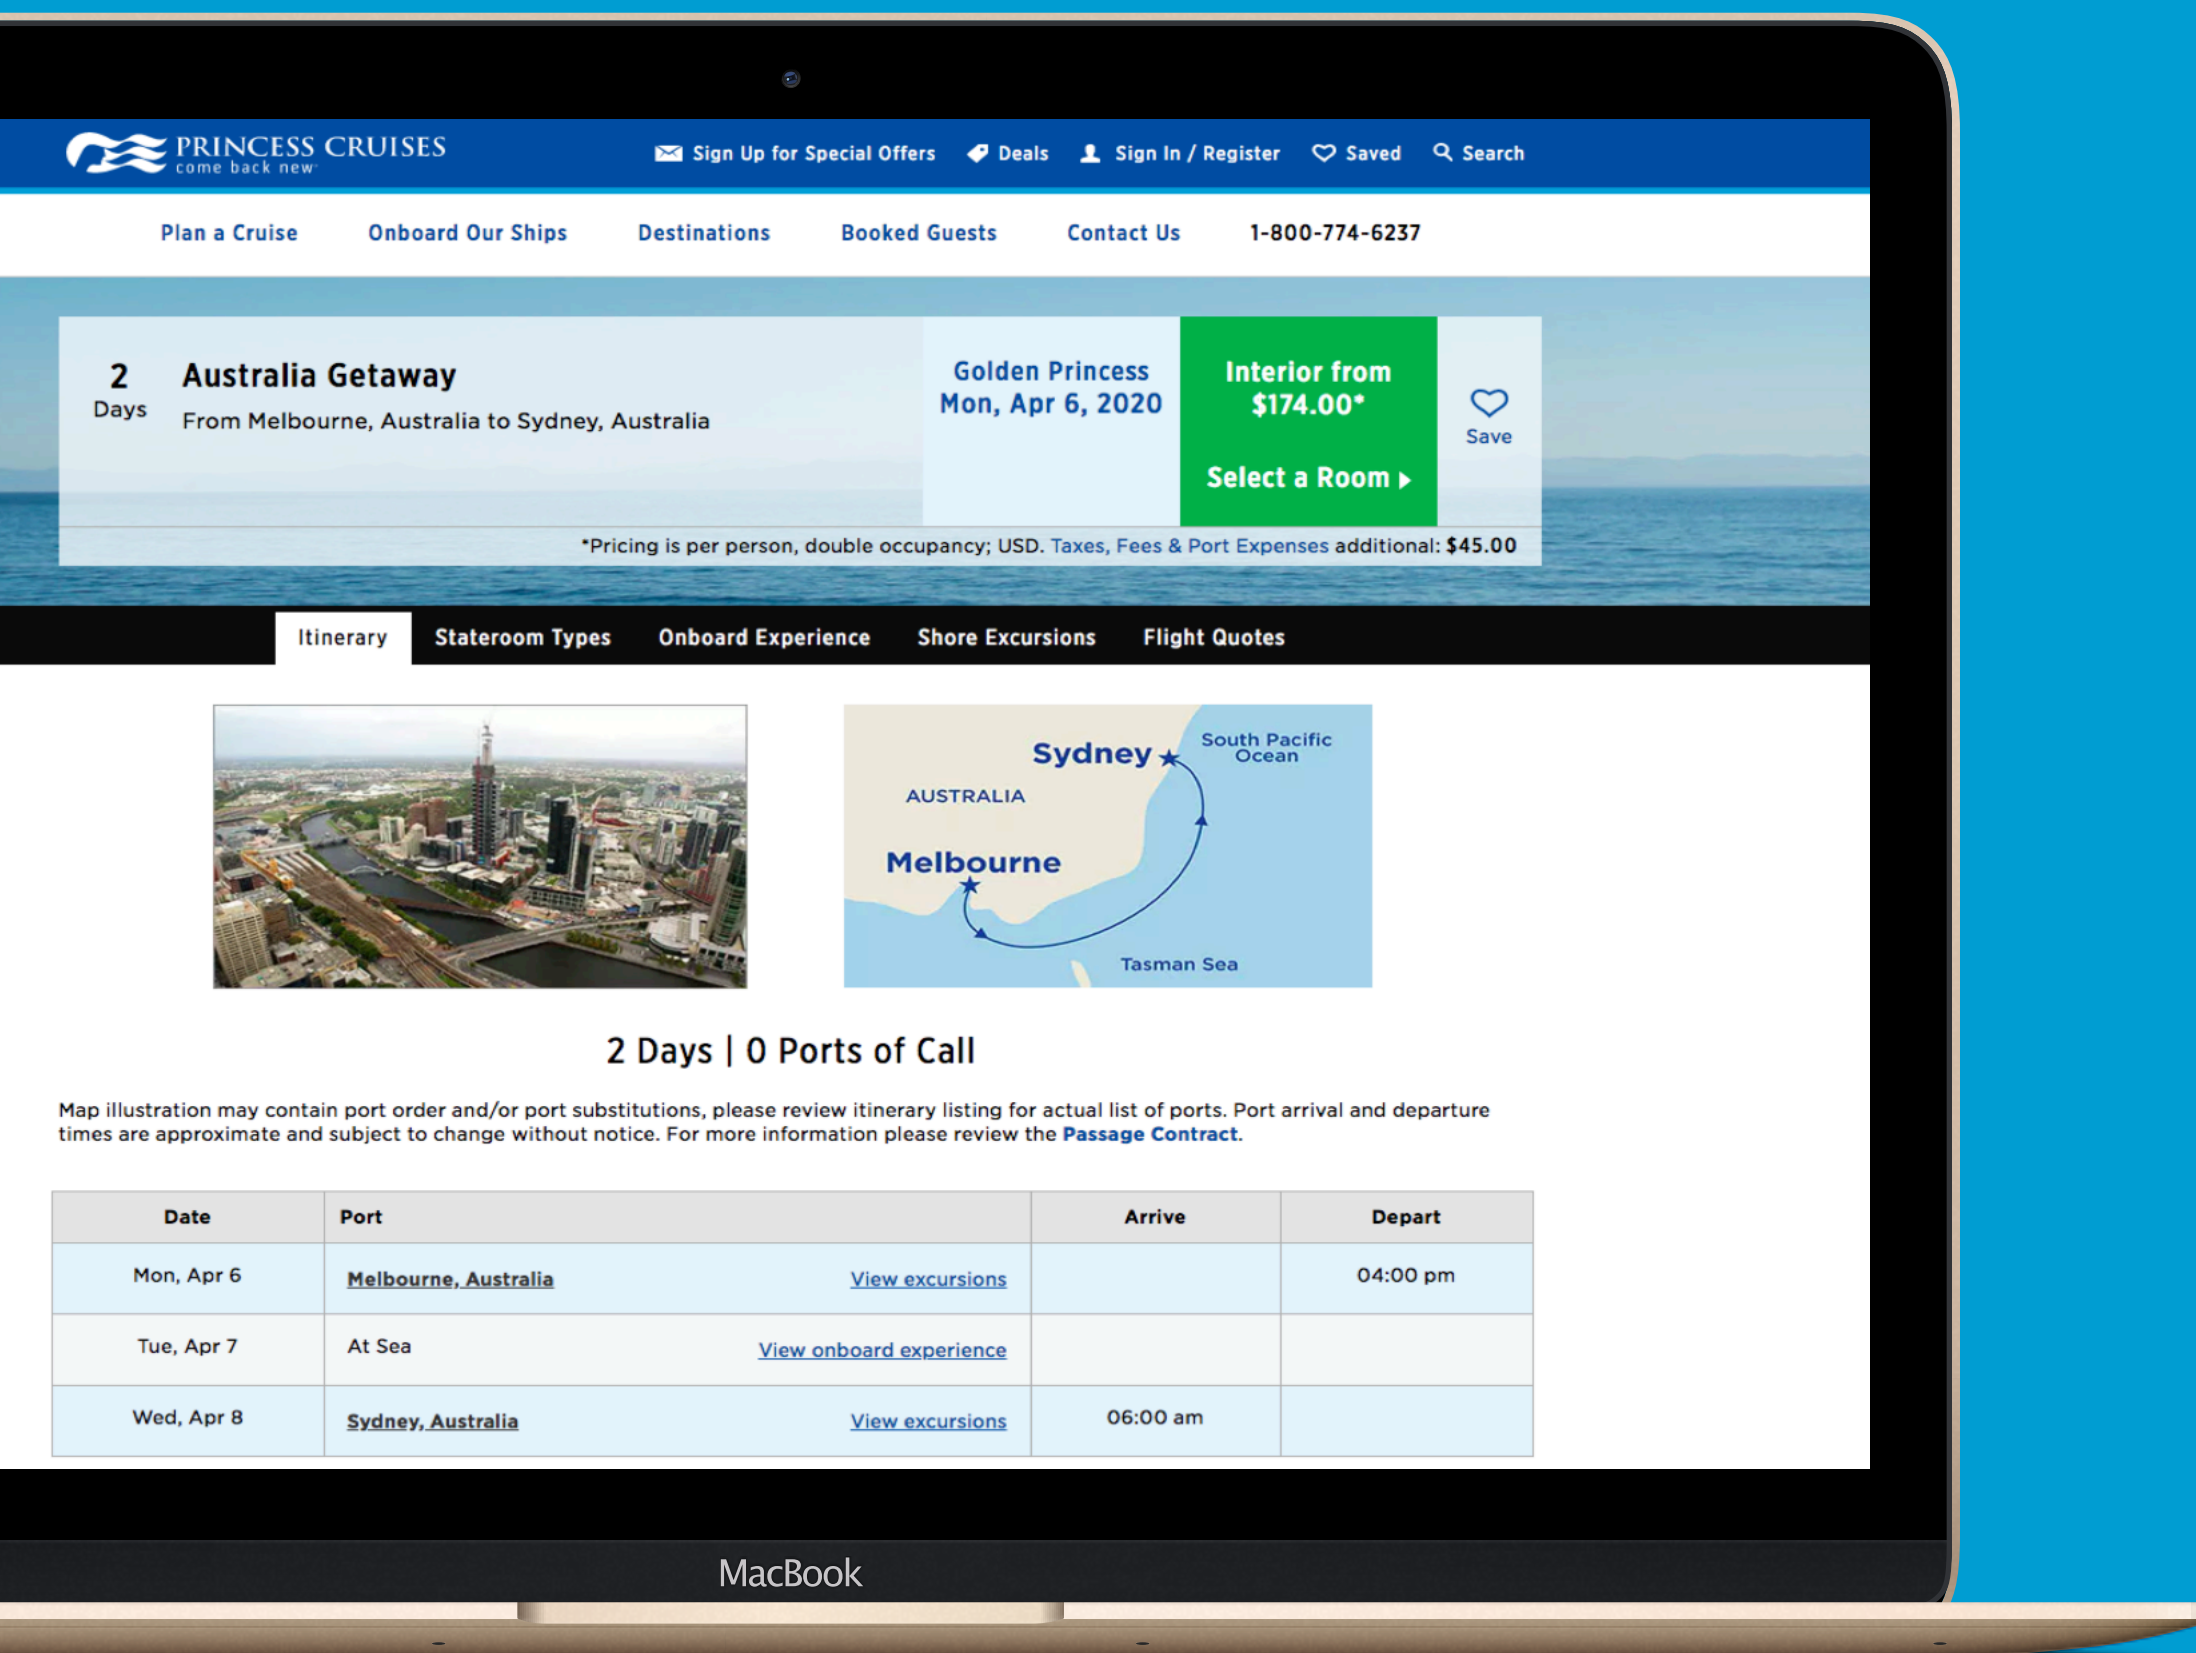

Finding the perfect cruise

Search results and booking portions of the site needed a revamp for incoming new mobile users. I joined the booking scrum team as their designer.

My role for this ongoing project is product designer on the booking scrum team. I handle all of the designs for the booking portion of princess.com

“I wanted to congratulate the web booking scrum on the incredible YOY gains in gross web bookings per 1k visits. Its amazing the improvements your team has put in place and the commercial benefit it is having for our company. Please congratulate and thank the team for all their hard work and innovative thinking.”

Jan Swartz, President, Princess Cruises

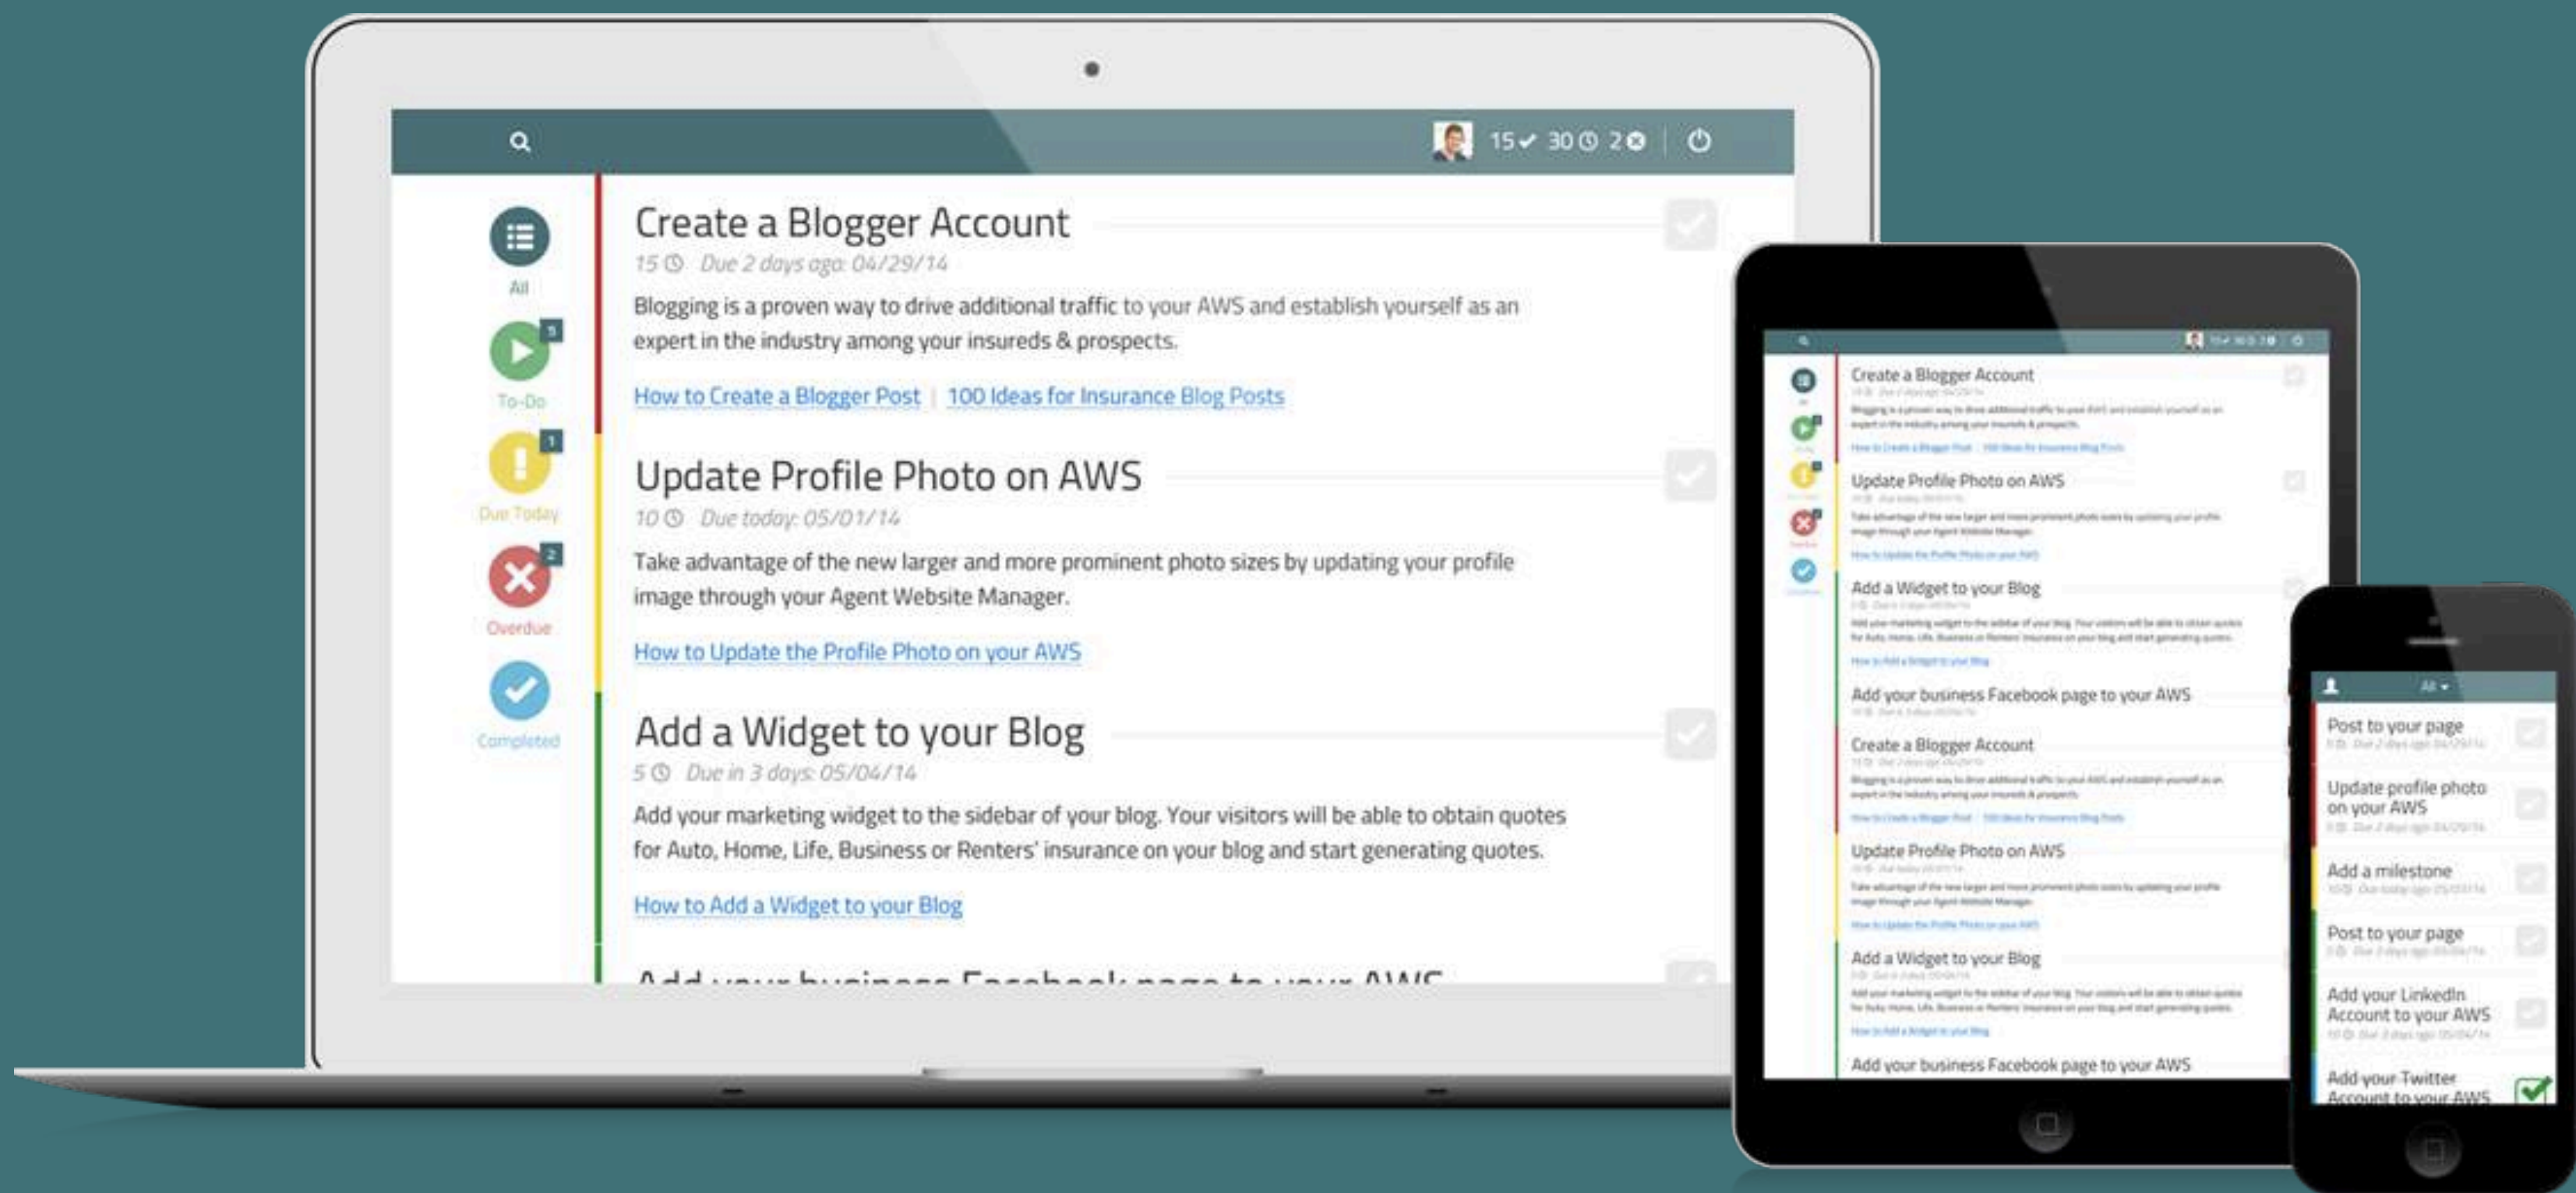

Digitally empowering small businesses

The Amplio app was created to solve these issues and empower these businesses and entrepreneurs with their online marketing.

Experts are able to consult these business owners on a mass scale. Users are assigned daily tasks to achieve their goals.

My role in the project was lead designer. I handled all of the design from sketching to the front-end code.

Giving Farmers agents a new look

The existing Farmers Agency Websites needed a fresh new look to match the new Farmers Insurance branding.

We took this opportunity to think over the design process again from a user experience perspective and development standpoint.

My role in the project was lead designer. I consulted on the finalization of the design stages and developed the front-end code with my team of designers.
